NEW DIGITAL TEXTURE

Inspired in the vast, serene white dunes found in New Mexico's White Sands National Park, Neolith Whitesands captures the essence of its silence and immensity. The soft texture and pale color reflect the sunlight, creating a bright and spacious effect in any room.

WhiteSands evokes the peace of the original desert landscapes that inspired this model, bringing a fresh look as well as serenity to modern interior design. It's produced with all-new digital texture technology for an unbeatable, even more natural finish with gentle relief yet still easy to clean.

"Give your space a dimension of elegance, freshness and functionality."

This model has the resistance and beauty of white sand dunes to transform any space into an oasis of calm.

12 & 20 mm 1/2" & 3/4"	3.200 x 1.600 126" x 63"

NEW DIGITAL TEXTURE

Inspired by the noble Italian stone known as Rapolano, this model is a tribute to the elegance and sophistication found in 16th century Renaissance Italian palaces which is becoming more and more present in today's interior design. The gentle tone transmits balance and refinement as characteristics that have adorned historic buildings in addition to luxury spaces, both classical and modern.

Rapolano gets its essence from those Tuscan quarries where stone was molded by nature and man for centuries.

“Balance, sophistication, and well-being.”

This model arouses a feeling of peace, wellbeing and contemplation all while adding a touch of Italian history to today's interior design with its exclusive texture and Full Body finish.

12 & 20 mm 1/2" & 3/4"	3.200 x 1.600 126" x 63"

Inspired by the limestone that covered Europe's Gothic cathedrals in the 14th and 15th centuries, which were known for their earthy tones and warm greys, this model takes you back to the solidness of traditional architecture and the warmth of country homes. The soft texture and natural color fill the space with a welcome feeling of comfort.

“The stone evokes pure craftsmanship and a return to our origins”.

Artisan is based on the highly resistant material extracted from the Spanish quarries the limestone used for centuries to build and decorate emblematic buildings came from. Synonymous to home, its use in interiors fosters a warm, welcoming atmosphere that creates a conscious connection with nature.

Inspired by the depths of the Earth and its magmatic cycles, this color comes from cooled matter, creating an enigmatic model that adds sophistication to any space where it is used.

A true tribute to the power and mystery of nature and its volcanic landscapes, Neolith Ignea offers an intense color that can create unique atmospheres full of character, radiating elegance and magnetism in any design.

“Feel the sophistication of volcanic landscapes and textures”.

Its absolute directionality proves audacious and daring, giving off the feeling of the ideal depth for spaces designed to impress and express individuality.
